Agricultural Literacy Week

The Nursery children at Love Bugs Preschool welcomed a very special visitor to their classroom last week. Grandma Pat stopped by to read the book "Weaving a Rainbow". The children were able to feel and smell real sheep's wool. They learned how different colored plants are used to dye the wool many different colors and how the wool is transformed into warm clothes for us to wear.

LeRotary Notes

Rotary Notes 3/18/15

It was a beautiful sunny day at The Greens of LeRoy for our meeting today. Derrik O'Sullivan & Kyle Hobart joined us today from LeRoy Central School. Peggy Marone from Leadership Genesee also joined us.

Lynne Belluscio announced the 75th LeRoy Historical Society Newsletter is printed, and is awesome. For more information on how to get one, contact the Historical Society. Sam Vagg announced that the LeRoy Business Council will be stuffing eggs for the Easter Egg Hunt at the Moose on March 28th at 9 am, and volunteers are needed. Also, the next Graze to Raise meeting will be March 24th at 5 pm, at LeRoy Village Green. Mary Young reminded the group that The Relay for Life Kick Off Party will be Saturday, March 21st at the Moose from 6-8 pm. Tracy Ford is heading up or Dodgeball Team for LCCP's Tournament on April 18th. The Genesee County United Way Day of Caring will take place on May 13th. Rotary will have a team, see Tracy Ford to sign up.

Jim Ellison, Tim Moag, Joe Giannettino, Lynne Belluscio, and Sam Vagg were all called on for missed meetings. Christine Gephart, Mary Margaret Ripley, & Mary Young were recognized for birthdays. Mary Margaret was also recognized for her 3 year anniversary in Rotary. Erik Fix was financed for his incredibly adorable children. Scott McCumiskey was financed for his upcoming March trip.

Peggy Marone was our presenter today. Peggy gave an excellent presentation on all the benefits of participating in the Leadership Genesee Program. Leadership Genesee not only offers personal growth through their program, but offers insight into leadership and business management. Leadership also offers excellent opportunities to go inside different industries in Genesee County. For example, they offer agriculture, tourism, and community services experiences. For more information into the Leadership Genesee Program, please call Peggy Marone at (585) 343-3040 x 118.

Notes From The Mayor's Office

by Greg "Porp" Rogers
Mayor

The day is finally here! We are going to bid for our sidewalk project; this work should be done this summer. Along with the sidewalk work funded by the Safe Route to School grant, the Village is going to replace the South side of Main St. sidewalks as well, that's the plan and we have budgeted for that.

The Village Board has met with department heads to come up with the 2015-2016 Budget. We will give notice of the public hearing on the proposed budget, to get feedback from the community and answer the questions you may have.

The winter really did a number on our streets; we have gone through 5 tons of cold patch for pot holes already. If you want to report a pot hole please call 768-2527. We will get someone there as soon as possible. We will also be getting any leaves left on the terraces as soon as they thaw a little more. Another thing that gets uncovered when the snow goes away is dog droppings, please take measures to take care of your dog's discharge.

Soon the Farmers' Market will be opening, please support our local growers and shop locally whenever possible.

Senate's Brighter Future Budget Plan: Good for Genesee County

by Senator Ranzenhofer

March 2015

I am pleased to report that the State Senate is moving the State Budget process forward with a balanced, fiscally responsible plan that will cut taxes, control spending and build a brighter future.

I am even more proud to report that the Senate's Budget plan will help to build a brighter future for the residents of Genesee County. The Senate one-house budget resolution reflects many important priorities for our community.

First, the Senate Budget ends the notorious Gap Elimination Adjustment (GEA) budget cuts to our school districts. For far too long, the GEA budget cuts have had a devastating impact on state funding for our schools, especially in more rural districts.

Second, the Senate plan rejects Governor Cuomo's proposal to require local agencies, such as the Genesee County Economic Development Center, to receive State approval for projects. If enacted, this proposal would cripple the work of local economic development agencies. More importantly, the Senate plan reauthorizes a $33 million state grant to help develop the WNY STAMP project.

Third, the Budget plan includes the recently unveiled "Grown in New York" initiative to help support local farmers in their efforts to provide quality, fresh food and meet consumers' demands for locally-grown produce. The Grown in NY plan has the potential to strengthen and grow family farms all across Genesee County.

Lastly, if many of the tax relief proposals in the Senate's one-house budget resolution are included in the final budget, then Genesee County's homeowners and small businesses will benefit from real relief.

The Senate budget establishes the largest, most comprehensive property tax relief program in state history. Under the Governor's plan, a majority of homeowners wouldn't receive a dollar in additional relief. In contrast, the Senate Budget plan would deliver relief to approximately 3.3 million homeowners.

Our package makes the property tax cap permanent and includes the creation of the New York Property Tax Relief Check Program. When combined with the existing property tax freeze credit, homeowners across the state will receive rebate checks averaging $458.

To help create jobs and grow the economy, the Senate Budget advances a $200 million small business package. Among other things, the Senate's plan would increase the business income tax exemption from 5 percent to 10 percent for all businesses filing under the personal income tax with less than $500,000 in business income. This initiative would save small businesses more than $125 million each year.

Overall, I believe that the Senate Budget should serve as a blueprint for the final budget plan.

As the April 1st budget deadline gets closer, I will be working to ensure that the final budget plan is good for Genesee County residents as well. I will be sure to keep you posted on my efforts.

Superintendent's Column

by Kim Cox

Superintendent of Schools

Thank you for your support on the bus referendum on Tuesday. This vote allows us to begin the purchasing process early and to have our new buses in place for the start of the year. Thanks for your support!

The Le Roy Board of Education, along with the District administrative team, has worked diligently to create a budget that maintains and enhances educational programs while ensuring fiscal responsibility to the community. Budget development is always a strategic and thoughtful process. This year we have encountered additional challenges due to the lack of information from the state. At this point we have a draft of our expenditures for the 2015-16 school year.

In making yearly decisions about the budget many important perspectives are considered including the input received from the community, teachers and administrators, as well as the mission, vision and goals of the district. Our main goal is to continue to do what is best for our students and ensure that they are ready for college and/or career beyond our walls. While this can be a challenging balancing act, we feel confident that the 2015-16 Le Roy School Budget will meet these needs.

Our preliminary draft budget totals $22,787,267 which is an increase of $178,282 or .79%, or less than 1%. Reductions in teacher and employee retirement costs, along with other realignments, have helped to keep our expenditures down. As usual, general increases are due to operating and contractual costs. We are also planning on adding a .5 business teacher and 1.0 instructional technology teacher. A .5 elementary teacher will also be restored from a previous reduction to help with some increased enrollment. To offset these increases, we have one retirement, that we will realize some cost savings in the replacement. We are planning to eliminate a .5 art teaching position and there will be some realignment of special education services.

As I stated before, we do not know what our state aid contribution will be. We are hopeful to see some increase from last year, but to play it safe we have calculated this draft budget based on last year's numbers with no increase. We also plan to stay within the property tax cap, which is a 1.61% increase on the levy. This will qualify the community for a rebate check from the state, similar to the one received this fall. Tax rate information will be determined once we have a state budget in place, which we expect around April 1st. The Board of Education will adopt the Budget at the April 14, 2015 meeting. Our Budget Newsletter, due out at the end of April, will detail the full budget information. As always, once the budget is adopted, information will also be available on our website.

The Public Hearing on the Budget will be held on Tuesday, May 12th at 7:00 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium at the Wolcott Street School. The budget vote is set for Tuesday, May 19, 2015, in the gymnasium corridor of the Wolcott Street School from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

I would like to recognize and thank the staff, community members, administration and the Le Roy Board of Education for devoting their time and effort in developing the 2015-16 Le Roy Central School Budget.

Thank you for your continued support!

March Meeting

LeRoy Town & Country Garden Club held their March meeting on Wednesday, March 11th at the First Presbyterian Church of LeRoy.

Marilyn Pallotti helped the members make garden flowers from a variety of glass materials. In the midst of our wintry weather the members enjoyed each other's company and thinking about the upcoming Spring.

A short business meeting was held to review the calendar and programs for the upcoming year including the Plant Auction which will be held on June 3rd.

Plans were finalized for our annual Banquet - Wednesday, April 8th at the LeRoy Country Club. Anyone interested in more information about the LeRoy Garden Club should contact Ann Walters at 768-8130.

Local Student Named to Dean's List at University of Rochester

Phillip James Moulton, a senior majoring in linguistics and philosophy at the University of Rochester, has been named to the Dean's List for academic achievement for the fall 2014 semester.

Moulton, a resident of LeRoy, NY, is the child of Stephen and Martina Moulton, and a graduate of LeRoy Central School in LeRoy, NY.

THE FAMILY OF CLAIR MILBURN

would like to express their sincere gratitude for all the prayers, kind words and cards at the time of his passing.

When Clair and Gary opened "C&G's" they saw great potential in LeRoy and were excited to become a part of the community.

The store will continue to serve the community as usual. Again, thank you for your support.

The Marion Model 91

by Lynne Belluscio

We just received notice that the Town has been awarded a grant for a historic marker for the steam shovel on the Gulf Road. This grant is provided by the William Pomeroy Foundation in Syracuse, which has championed historic markers throughout the state. This includes markers or plaques for those sites that are on the National Register. And just a note – several people have suggested that the shovel should be moved to a place where it is more visible.

First of all, it was eligible for the National Register because it was on the site of the quarry where it was used. It would lose its designation if it were moved. And because it is on the historic site, it stands as a testament to the men, who for two hundred years have quarried LeRoy's limestone. In the meantime, I have been in contact with the engineering department at a National Historic site in Pennsylvania which can provide advice for stabilizing the machine.

A lot is known about the shovel. It is a Model 91 Marion and is one of 131 built in Ohio between 1902 and 1920. It is believed to be the only surviving Model 91 in the world. Sixteen of these shovels were shipped to Panama to help dig the canal. On May 12, 1912, a Marion Model 91 set the world's record at the Barrow pit at the Gatun Dam for moving 554 cubic yards of earth at the Canal. General Crushed Stone Company supposedly bought one shovel from Panama, but they also bought one directly from the Marion Company in Ohio. Since the registration plate on the shovel was removed many years ago, there is no way of proving whether this shovel, or the other shovel that was in LeRoy, came from Panama.

The shovel weighs over 100 tons. It has three engines, powered by a large boiler. The largest engine is located inside the engine house and it propelled the machine forward or backward by chains connected to the axles. (About 50 feet of this chain was removed after it was driven out of the quarry.) This engine has a 12-inch bore and a 16 inch stroke. Originally the shovel moved on railroad wheels. Track had to be laid in the quarry to the rock face where the shovel was used. Sometime around 1924, the wheels were replaced with tractors.

The second engine is called the swing engine and has an 8-inch bore. It manipulates the boom from one side to the other. The third engine is the boom engine – sometimes called the crowd engine and is mounted on the boom. It also has an 8-inch bore and was used to raise or lower the bucket. This engine, unlike the other two, has been exposed to the weather for over 100 years, and is in very serious condition. Amazingly, the shovel has its original boiler.

The importance of having huge shovels like the Marion 91, was an indication of the change in the limestone industry. Originally, limestone in LeRoy was quarried for building material. As you look around LeRoy, you will notice many buildings, foundations, and bridges constructed of local limestone. When railroads were at their peak, stone from LeRoy was used to build culverts and bridges. But crushed stone was necessary for ballast along the railroad tracks. It's hard to believe, but a lot of that stone was broken by manual labor and it was moved by horse-drawn carts.

With the introduction of the automobile and paved roads it was necessary to develop mechanical crushing machines. Between 1901 and 1909, the quarry in LeRoy boasted that it had the largest crusher in the world. The traditional method of moving rock from the quarry face to the crusher could no longer be handled with horse carts and manual labor. The stage was set for the development of a stronger excavating steam shovel.

The LeRoy Gazette included a lot of details about the shovel. "It is known as a 5-yard dipper, and every time it is dipped down into the stone, it will lift enough of it to fill one of the cars. This is a great improvement over the old way and will greatly increase in output of the plant with less labor." The question is whether the shovel with the 5-yard dipper is the one on the Gulf Road, because it has only a 2 ½ yard dipper.

In published material about

these steam shovels, it is mentioned that they were rarely equipped with the large 5-yard dipper when working with heavy limestone. So either the "other" steam shovel had a 5-yard dipper or it was changed out and equipped with the smaller dipper. In 1906, the output of crushed stone from the LeRoy quarry was 2,000 tons a day. Most of that was shipped 175 miles south to Sayre, Pennsylvania for the Lehigh Railroad.

In any event, it is believed that the LeRoy shovel is the only remaining Model 91 Marion shovel in the world. Not only does it represent the limestone industry in LeRoy, but it is a tribute to these grand machines that helped build the Panama Canal.

Last year I was contacted by a museum that was doing an exhibit on the Panama Canal, and they wanted to borrow the dipper for their exhibit. After I explained that it would be impossible to remove the dipper without doing damage to the boom, and there was no guarantee that it could be put back, the conversation ended. But it did impress upon me how important the steam shovel is, and how lucky we are that it wasn't scrapped during World War II. --- And yes, the story about Mike Mulligan and his steam shovel Mary Ann is based on a shovel made by the Marion Steam Shovel Company.

Youth Hockey Has Winning Season

The Alex's Place Batavia Ramparts Squirt A Youth Hockey team participated in two tournaments during the month of March to cap off a winning season! The team skated away with the championship at the Boulder Tournament in Webster defeating Tri-County (10-0), Perinton (7-2) and Webster (10-0) in the round-robin portion of play and then nipped Perinton 4-3 in a dramatic overtime shoot out to claim the title! Andrew Kasmarek, Noah Hudson, Zack Eschberger and Mason Cook registered hat tricks during the 2 days of play, Tanner Mountain scored the teams winning shoot-out goal and Goalie Courtney Schum earned the tournaments' MVP award.

The team then headed to West Seneca to participate in the 2nd annual Lukey's Legacy Memorial Tournament. Sixteen teams from all over Western NY and Pennsylvania battled it out on the ice. The Ramparts had decisive wins in their first 3 games of play against the Niagara Sharks, West Seneca Blackhawks and the Wheatfield Blue Hawks. Zack Eschberger racked up a hatty in the first game against the Niagara Hawks and skated off with the teams' MVP award. Noah Hudson and Mason Cook also gained MVP nods in the 2nd and 3rd games of round robin play, respectively. The Ramparts (with 14.5 tourney points) then faced the Bradford Owls (with 14 tourney points) in an action-packed semi-final game which kept fans on the edge of their seats!

The Ramparts Defensemen – Alex Johnson, Thomas Reardon, Tanner Mountain and Brian Valyear kept the Owls' line away from the net throughout much of the game. Andrew Kasmarek, Will Eschberger, Ryan Hamilton and the other Ramparts' Forwards were sharp, focused and determined as they kept the score tied going into OT. The Owls eeked out a win in heart-pumping double OT shoot out...and subsequently went on to take the Tourney Championship in the final game versus the Aurora Ice. Courtney Schum, goaltender, was named MVP of the semi-final game for the Ramparts --- she also received a well-deserved round of applause (and some hoots) from the Owls as she exited the locker room post game.

While Alex's Place Squirt A Ramparts were duking it out in the Semi-Final game versus the Owls, two of their team-members received prestigious awards at the GAHA (Genesee Amateur Hockey Association) annual banquet. Courtney Schum received the Empire Goalie of the Year award and Zack Eschberger was awarded the Zac Johnson Award acknowledging a player that shows dedication and passion for the sport of Hockey. Both awards are based on nominations and voting by parents and coaches in the league.

The Alex's Place Squirt A Ramparts is comprised of hockey players from Batavia, Alexander, Oakfield, Pavilion and LeRoy. Team Members include Brian Valyear, Ryan Hamilton, Will Eschberger, Zack Eschberger, Alex Johnson, Thomas Reardon, Andrew Kasmarek, Noah Hudson, Mason Cook, Tanner Mountain and Courtney Schum. They are led by Head Coach Chad Valyear and assisted by Fred Hamilton, Dan Hudson, Joe Eschberger and Gary Schum.

March Weather

LeRoy Nursery School learned about the weather. Will it be a Lion or Lamb Day? Is it really spring? The children do the weather everyday. The weather person gets to tell what kind of day it is by using their stick puppets they made. March came in like a lion and they think it'll go out like one too.
